Description

Ultrasonic humidifier Airbi TWIN refreshes and improves indoor air quality. Model TWIN belongs to multipurpose devices (3 in 1) – humidify air, purify air (production of ions helps to clean the air), and the user also has the option to add essential oils (additional effects of aromatherapy). Thanks to this technology the components and the water can unfold their beneficial potential for humans.

Airbi TWIN is attractive for its timeless design. Appliance is also offered in two colors (white or black), thanks to which it will fit almost in any interior.

Humidifier Airbi TWIN releases fresh steam into the air. Permanent water and antibacterial filter removes minerals from the water and prevents further dispersion of these particles in the air. The great advantage of ultrasonic humidifier TWIN is high efficient in humidification with very low power consumption.

The device is equipped with a digital built-in hygrometer and thermometer. Ultrasonic Humidifier Airbi TWIN can operate in manual or automatic mode. In manual mode user can set up the amount of water steam (3 levels) on the output. In automatic mode, the user sets the value of relative humidity (minimum humidity 45%, maximum 75%), which wants to reach and maintain. Built-in ionizer can purify the air additionally and provides fresh air.

Humidifier TWIN is operable with infrared remote control or touch buttons on front panel. Additional features include adjustable operating time (timer) or acoustic and visual indication of empty water tank. There is also safety function – Airbi TWIN automatically shuts off when it runs out of water.

Demanding users will appreciate the multi-directional rotary output nozzle and easily refillable water tank. Airbi TWIN has silent operation that ensures a quiet and restful sleep. Appliance is applicable for small and large rooms up to 45 m² / 100 m³.
